Students' Research Laboratory «A fold of time»
(«Psychological support for children and adolescents in difficult life situations»)

The date of creation – 12.09.2011.

Composition of the participants SRL – students, undergraduates, and graduate students of the Institute of Psychology of BSPU.

Supervisor – Puzyrevich Natalia Leonidovna, Head of the Department of Social and Family Psychology at the Institute of Psychology of BSPU, PhD in Psychology.

Contacts: Department of Social and Family Psychology, tel. (8-017) 311-23-16, e-mail: puzirevich@bspu.by.

Direction of scientific research: formation of competencies in future psychologists in the field of preventing the destructive consequences of children and adolescents experiencing crisis events in their life course and the formation of a constructive time perspective in children and adolescents.

Main research results: scientific and methodological support for psychological and pedagogical support of children and adolescents in the field of formation of a constructive time perspective in the conditions of training and education in educational institutions of the Republic of Belarus has been developed.

Implementation: models for differentiating constructive and destructive experiences of children and adolescents through crisis events in their life course; methodological recommendations for psychologists, teachers and parents on the prevention of suicidal behavior in children and adolescents; methodological recommendations for parents and peers of children and adolescents on the formation of social support for constructive overcoming difficult life situations.

Achievements: diplomas and certificates based on the results of presentations at conferences and seminars; 1st place in international competitions for SNIL (Russian Federation, 2020, 2021); master's student Uglyanitsa N.V. – laureate of the XXIII Republican competition of scientific works of students of higher education institutions of the Republic of Belarus (scientific work on the topic «Strategies for overcoming crisis events in the life course of adolescents from foster families», 2017); participation in the implementation of the BRFFR grant (2017-2019); participation in the implementation of grants from the Ministry of Education of the Republic of Belarus (2019, 2022).

